Senior Class History

History is a narration of facts and events in the order of time, with their causes and effects.

The cause of our class history is ambition. Ambition is the power that has lifted men from savagery to civilization. Ambition has no country or neighborhood. It is a plant that grows in any soil, and its fortunate possession will grow with it. The good old H. H. S. has made it possible for us to lay a foundation for future usefulness. The quality of that foundation is in proportion to the amount of ambition we put into it.

Our class numbering sixty, started in the Fall of 1930, building another link in that chain which we call life. It has taken courage to keep continually at it, until now our task is finished.

We started out with the following officers: President, Clayton Perry; Vice President, Frances Crosby; Secretary, Barbara Bleecker; Treasurer, Virgil Powers. We chose as our class colors, green and silver which we have kept throughout our four years in High School. Mr. Cowles was chosen as class advisor, and during the year he gave us much valuable advice, which was greatly needed and appreciated.

Very soon after school started we gave an assembly program which helped to make us feel as though we were really a part of the High School. The social event of the year was a costume party given on the evening of April 24. It was a great success due to the efforts of the Freshmen and our class advisor.

We finished our first year and started as Sophomores with the realization that as we progressed in High School we had to assume greater responsibility. This year we chose as leaders the following officers: President, Andrew Weber; Vice President, Teresa Vanderhavel; Secretary, Donald Tate; Treasurer, Stephanie Bovid. With the help of our new class advisor, Mr. Olendorf, we put on our Sophomore party, which was enjoyed by everyone.

In the Fall of 1932 school was again in session, and we were proud to think that we were Juniors. In our new role it meant that we were starting on the last half of our High School Life. We chose Marjorie Moody, Virgil Powers, Christine Schofield and Bessie Kreigh as class officers, and Mrs. Hawley as our class advisor.

Six of the members of our class took part in the Junior-Senior Play, "The Wild Oats Boy" which was a great success.

Our Junior boys won the inter-class indoor baseball contest. We were also well represented in athletics and on the judging teams, many of the former winning first team letters.

The crowning event of the year was the Junior-Senior Banquet and Dance, which might be called our farewell party to the Seniors. The Banquet was served in the parlors of the Congregational Church, and later there was dancing in the High School auditorium, which was decorated in the Senior Class Colors.

When the Fall of 1933 saw us back in school again, we were filled with awe as we were now Seniors and expected to uphold the dignity of that class. The officers as elected were: President, Donna Graff; Vice President, Burton Dayharsh; Secretary, Phillip Van Allsburg; Treasurer, Hollis Tate.

The Senior Class put on two plays, "Elmer" and "Kidnapping Betty" under the direction of our class advisor Mr. Shinn.

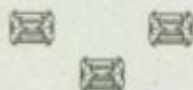

Graduation is only the beginning of what the effect will be from the four years spent in Hart High School. While we have played, studied, and had a never to be forgotten time together, we have been creating separate little worlds for ourselves. Worlds that we must live in, so let us hope that in the history of our four years lies a well built foundation for a life of usefulness, honest work and happiness.

Ambition plus Labor spells victory—hence our motto—"No Victory without Labor."

 Fourth Row—Bernice Lipski, Iola Girard, Lucy Haight, Edward Coleson, Eugene Jensen, Robert Diamond, Kathleen May, Ruth Ellen Sherman, Myrtle Wheeler, Clara Booth, Ruth Jessup, Phyllis Lambrix.

History of the Class of '32

The Senior class of 1932 entered the freshman class in 1928 with 65 members. We elected Carlton Story as our president and, with Mr. Olendorf as our advisor, we gave a dancing party for the high school, which turned out to be a great success.

For our sophomore year we elected Kathleen May president. With the help of Mrs. Skinner, our class advisor, we gave our annual high school party. At the close of school we enjoyed a picnic at Juniper Beach, given by Miss Haas.

For our Junior year we chose Mr. Snow for class advisor and Peter Norgaard as president. Our dancing party was enjoyed by all. The outstanding event of the year was our Junior play, "In Cherry Time", which was a remarkable success. At the close of the year we entertained the Senior class at a banquet and dancing party, this, too, was a brilliant success.

In our Senior year we elected Eugene Jensen as president; Robert Diamond as vice-president; Kathleen May, secretary, and Edward Coleson, treasurer. Mr. Snow was our class advisor. We gave our annual school party which was an enjoyable one. We went to Battle Creek and Kalamazoo on our Senior Skip day and had a delightful trip. Instead of a senior play, the Seniors and Juniors combined and gave a Senior-Junior play in which several of our leading dramatists took prominent parts. We were entertained by the Juniors at the annual event of the year—the J-Hop, which we all enjoyed very much.

On June 10, 1932, our class of 50 Seniors was graduated from Hart High School, thus ending four years of happy high school life.

Top Row—Doris Johnson, Teresa Jorissen, Mr. Snow, Dorothy Welsh, Mary Baker, Franklin Demmon, Bill Tice, Louis Rider, Robert Hale, Joe Dennison Stuart Dillingham.
 Second Row—Laverl Bushaw, Doris Hurnie, June Hitchcock, Cleo Curtis, Maxine Bender, Wilna Hackett, John Smith, Harold Mc Guinness, Donald Harris, Grant Mitteer, Basil Carclay.

 Fifth Row—Virginia Heydenburk, Mamie Kynel, Aina Johnson, Opal Mc Donald, Marjorie Nielsen, Max Phillipso, Dale Fox, Raymond Lorenz, Rudolph Stockinger, Lynn Lambrix.

History of the Class of '33

In the fall of 1929 we organized our class and elected Opal Mc Donald, President. Doris Johnson represented us in the Student Council and Mr. Cowles was our class advisor. We gave a costume party; the hall being decorated with tan and orchid, our freshman class colors.

In our Sophomore year, with Mr. Olendorf as advisor, we elected Grant Mitteer, President, and Marjorie Nielsen as our Student Council representative. We gave a dancing party in March which was well attended and an assembly program in May.

As Juniors, with Mrs. Skinner as advisor, we elected Dale Fox, President, with Maxine Bender and Doris Hurnie as our Student Council representatives. During the year we gave an assembly program and also a party. We entertained the Seniors at the Junior-Senior banquet and dance, the banquet being held at the Stevens Hotel.

With a class of 48 we began our Senior year with Stuart Dillingham as President, Franklin Demmon and Cleo Curtis as representatives of the Student Council.

In May we went to Battle Creek and Kalamazoo on Skip Day.

We were entertained by the Juniors at a banquet after which we enjoyed the annual J-Hop.

After four happy years in High School we now endeavor to find the answer to our motto, "Tonight we launch; where shall we anchor?"

Junior Class History

The present Junior Class entered as Freshmen in the fall of 1931. Soon all were accustomed to the ways of high school. The following officers were elected: President, Arleen Billings; Vice-President, Clayton Kokx; Secretary, Helen Shull; Treasurer, Richard Riddell. Phyllis Kokx was our representative on the Student Council. Under the leadership of Mr. Cowles, we put on a Hard Time party on Friday evening, May 13, 1932.

Entering as Sophomores in the fall of 1932 we elected the following officers: President, Geraldine Tyler; Vice-President, Edward Goush; Secretary, N. J. Hook; Treasurer, Donald Shull.

Our representative in Student Council was Clayton Kokx. Mr. Olendorf was our class advisor. We gave a St. Patricks' party on Friday evening, March 17, 1933.

In the fall of 1933 we entered school as Juniors. To guide us through this year we elected the officers as follows: President, Phyllis Kokx; Vice-President, Florence Johnson; Secretary, Arleen Billings; Treasurer, Clinton Barritt. Vivian Dukes and John Hanson were our representatives in Student Council. Mr. Snow was our class advisor. Our class sponsored the Magician here Thursday evening, Dec. 7, 1933.

At the end of the year we entertained the Seniors at a banquet and dancing party.

We put on the class play "Oh, Doctor", on May 11, 1934.

We feel that our last three years have been a great success.

Arleen Billings, Secretary.

Sophomore Class History

We entered high school in September, 1932, with an enrollment of sixty-five members. Mr. Cowles was our class advisor; and the officers of the class were as follows: President, John Achterhoff; Vice-President, Lorraine Halladay; Secretary and Treasurer, Jeanne Watkins.

The event of the whole year was the hard-times party given late in the spring.

When we entered as Sophomores in September, 1933, we had an enrollment of fifty. This year our advisor was Mr. Sumrill. The officers this year were: President, Jeanne Watkins; Vice-President, Dick Rummer; Secretary, Lorraine Halladay; Treasurer, Mary Dayharsh.

This year a St. Patricks party was given on March 16 by the class.

FRESHMAN CLASS

 Sixth Row—Virgina Lykens, Marilyn Halladay, Marian Pugsley, Marjorie Grate, Eloise Munger, Herbert Lombard, Max Tate, Mary Lorraine Harris.

Freshman Class History

We consist of fifty-four of the most ambitious freshmen. Under the leadership of various members of the faculty, and especially our class advisor, Mr. Cowles, we are beginning to ascend the ladder of success.

As is the custom of the past, we elected class officers at the beginning of the year. Our president was Jack Salter; our vice-president, Bernice Weber; treasurer, Stanley Rudis; secretary, Eloise Munger. Max Tate was elected to represent us on the Student Council.

The most important social event of the year was the Freshman costume party, which was given on April twenty-seventh. We decorated the gym to represent a Japanese garden. On the whole it was quite a success.

We are also proud of our two varsity letter men. Stanley Rudis in football, and Perry Slocum in basketball.

—Eloise R. Munger.

JUNIOR HIGH

Junior High School History

The Junior High school is a new organization, established for the first time this year. It is composed of 40 7th graders and 34 8th graders. Miss Bowen and Miss Hawley are the instructors.

The 8th grade officers are as follows: President, Jack Corbin; Vice-president, Reynard Dillingham; Secretary, Bill Rollins; Treasurer, Maureen Munger.

The officers of the 7th grade are: President,

Rex Snider; Vice-president, Arthur Olsen; Librarian, Nancy Corbin; News Reporter, Lucille Frost.

The Junior High held two parties, a Halloween Party, which was a costume party and a George Washington party. These parties were very successful and were enjoyed by everyone present.

The Junior High is a very successful experiment and it will probably be continued.

OCEANA COUNTY NORMAL

Back Row—Ruth Kirwin, Miss Fry, Miss Becker, Miss Kantz, Katherine Vander Wall, June Hitchcock, Marjorie Nielsen, Elizabeth McCallum, Mr. Shinn.
 Middle Row—Maisie Rowley, Hazel Haight, Irene Kalland, Dorothy Norberg, Ruth Hepworth, Mabel Kirwin, Adaline Halladay, Norma Beachum.

County Normal History

On September 4, 1933, nineteen would be teachers met at the Normal to begin a year's work in preparation for future duties. Shortly after the beginning of the year we met in our first business meeting to better organize the class. At this meeting Marjorie Nielsen was elected President; Maisie Rowley, Vice-President; Irene Kalland, Secretary; and Merle Archer, Treasurer. Also we had as instructors to help us over the path, Mr. H. H. Shinn, Superintendent; Miss Isabelle Becker, Principal; Miss Anna B. Kantz, Critic; and Miss Leota Fry, Art instructor. With the class started on its year's journey in the care of these officers and instructors we completed the years' journey with all nineteen safe and sound.

No one, we are proud to say, fell out by the way.

Nine townships of this county and two outside townships were represented, also seven high schools, five of which were in this county.

During the year we enjoyed a roast at Silver Lake, a Hallowe'en party at the school house, a party at Wietzke's given by Miss Kantz and Miss Becker, a trip to Kalamazoo, a party at Osborn's, and a moving picture of Michigan's animal life to help raise money to defray expenses.

We completed our year's journey on May 29, 1934, when dressed in caps and gowns, we received our diplomas and teachers' certificates and were ready to begin our teaching profession.

President's Welcome

Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

This evening is an important event in our lives. The time which we have been anxiously anticipating has come at last. Some of us have approached it with dread, and many, I believe, though eager for the finish, are now feeling a little sad at having to leave high school. Within another day our high school studies will be completed, and we will go out on the various pathways leading to a more complete development of our lives, some of us, perhaps, never to meet again. What the future holds for each of us, no one knows, but as we meet the obstacles of life we shall strive to overcome them in a manner that will make Hart High proud of us.

But we are not gathered here tonight to mourn our departure, but for merriment. We have but a few more hours left in our high school life; so let us make them the happiest hours of the whole four years.

We welcome each and every one of you on this happy occasion. Especially do we wish to welcome and express our gratitude to those who have made it possible for us to reach this goal; our parents, who have made endless sacrifices that we might have the advantages of a high school education, and who have been intensely interested and concerned with our progress through all the twelve years of our school life; the members of the Board of Education for the time they have spent and the efforts they have made during these difficult years to keep Hart High up to its usual high standards; the faculty members for their kind assistance and instruction, the interest they have shown in our school activities, and the personal encouragement they have given us.

We want you to enjoy this evening with us as the chosen members of our class present this program, picture our high school life, and foretell our futures in joke and satire.

To such scenes the class of 1934 bids its many friends welcome.

Valedictory

Tonight, we, the Class of '34, have given our last program as members of the Student Body. Tomorrow night, on receiving our diplomas, we will have reached the goal for which we have strived for the past four years and which we have gained only with the loyal support of parents and teachers.

We have now reached what seems to be the most serious time in our lives, when it becomes necessary for us to look thoughtfully into the distance and choose our course on one of two roads.

The smoother, easier road is that followed by the multitude, who have no aim in life, no ambition, no goal. If we follow that road we will be blown along by the Wind of Time just as the tumbleweed is blown along here and there across the fields in the fall. If the wind is favorable, we will go ahead; but if a stronger wind from the opposite direction rises, we will lose what start we have made and will soon find ourselves tossed into some obscure fence corner.

The other is the rougher, rockier road followed only by those who have set a definite goal and are steering straight for it. It will, undoubtedly, at times seem almost impassable but it will test our stamina and will-power to overcome those obstacles which prevent our advancement and at the same time develop our minds and character to fit us better for useful service and to conquer the next difficulty with which we come in contact.

At times defeat will seem inevitable and we will feel that victory is not worth the effort. Tempting roads winding back to the path of least resistance and beckoning to us at every step, will make it easy to lose the way. But, if we have looked thoughtfully into the distance and thoroughly prepared ourselves, armed with determination and undefeatable spirit, it will be impossible to get far off the road. After the first hard start, we shall find the road smoother and easier to follow for the World does make a way for the man who knows where he is going. And the satisfaction which one receives from knowing he has accomplished something worthwhile brings more lasting satisfaction and sweeter memories than the fleeting pleasures which are necessary to give up and which travelers on the other road enjoy.

Which road will we follow? That is something each of us must decide individually. But, having been privileged to associate with the fine characters which have guided us for the past four years and which have been built only by strict adherence to this latter road, I am sure that one and all, after having looked thoughtfully into the distance, will decide that the prize at the end of that road is well worth the effort.

And with the wish that every member of this class, may, in the years to come, be worthy of the highest esteem of his fellow classmates and be pointed out with pride as "one of the class of '34", I say "Farewell."

Class Will

To the bereaved persons who are gathered here tonight to hear the last WILL AND TESTAMENT of the Class of 1934: We extend to you our deepest sympathy in your hour of trial. As we are the appointed administrators of their estates it is our duty at this time to read the aforesaid WILL AND TESTAMENT.

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1934 OF H. H. S.

We, the class of 1934, as an expression of appreciation to our beloved teachers, who have helped us so willingly and magnanimously during these four years of trials and tribulations, desire to leave to them our deepest gratitude and thankfulness.

Deeming the class of 1935 unworthy of it, we hereby will our places on the honor roll and in the hearts of our teachers, to the class of 1936, in the hope that they will appreciate it and strive to live up to the standard which we have set.

However, desiring to leave something to the class of 1935, our successors, we will to them our seats on the West side of the assembly room.

These mutual possessions, having been settled once and for all, the following individual members of the class desire to leave some trivial remembrance to their particular friend or friends, among the student body or faculty.

As an expression of my deep and lasting friendship for Edward Goush, I, Russell Blades, will my most precious possession, a picture of Stephanie Bovid, to him.

Desiring to see him make a mark for himself during his high school days along the line of athletics, I, Sidney Brimmer, do bequeath my remarkable baseball ability to Leo Krause.

Having made an extensive use of my strange power which I have over men, I, Stephanie Bovid, desire to leave said power to Miss Lucille Bowen, in the hopes that she will use it advantageously.

Wishing to see the Junior class win the Inter-class basketball tournament and having noticed their several futile attempts, I, Doris Brandel, will my athletic ability to Lois Moore.

I, Ila Cargill, will my quiet way about the assembly to Audrey Giroux.

Believing that I would gain greatly in charm by the loss of my deep, gruff voice, I, Burton Dayharsh, therefore will this organic impediment to The Big Bad Wolf.

I, Frances Crosby, will my coveted position as the class flirt, to Gladys Shinn, knowing that she will make proper use of it.

Being desirous that someone other than myself be blessed with a dazzling smile such as I have, I, Evelyn Leak, bequeath this smile to Jean Harris.

Having noticed that he is rather a bashful chap, I, Phillip Van Allsburg, will my many and various experiences to Arthur Harris.

As I, Andrew Weber, am moving to Chicago, and have no further use for my farmer habits, desire to leave them to Mr. Cowles.

Our sisterly love having been noticed on several occasions, we Bessie and Rhea Kreigh, leave these affectionate habits to Edna Mae and Marguerite Winget.

Having tried several remedies unsuccessfully, I take this opportunity to get rid of my freckles, by willing them to Florence Johnson.

Signed—Marjorie Moody

I have used my power of Negro characterization so much during my high school career, that I, Clayton Perry, believe it only fair that I transfer this achievement to my dear friend, Peter Shimkus.

I, Clara Seclhoff, will my uncanny art for saying things backwards, to Phyllis Kokx.

Believing that she could make good use of it, I, Blanche Marshall, will my slender figure to Helen Boomer.

I, Hollis Tate, will my wavy, red locks to Miss Ella McCall, so that in the future she will not have to spend her hard earned money on henna rinses.

Having been converted to the principal of home patronage, we, the Spitler Twins, do hereby will and bequeath our Shelby boy friends to Irene Hart and Clara Baker.

Evelyn Greiner desires to will her gracefulness to Jeanne Watkins.

I, Lawrence Ewing, will my extensive knowledge of everything in general, to Richard Riddell, hoping that it will help him as it has helped me, during his last year in high school.

Teresa Vanderhavel wills her seat in the back of the assembly to Marian Pugsley, in the hope that she and Tommy Welsh will make good use of it in the future.

I, Albert Riggs, will my art in putting off assignments to Gerald Wyckoff, which, added to that which he already has, will entirely keep him from getting his lessons at all.

I, Edna Quist, will my typing ability to Esther Leslie.

Frank Hitchcock bequeaths his extereme bashfulness to Johnny Spencer, noticing his deficiency along this particular line.

As gentlemen are said to prefer blonds, I, Lola Pettigrove, will my blond tresses to Arleen Billings.

I, Bob Hale, will my extreme height to Bob Blackmer, in the hope that in the future he will be able to make football tackles without being dragged across the goal line.

I, Ruth Fuller, leave my slow, leisurely manners to Marian Viterna.

As I am noted for my small stature, and as I am desirous of getting out of the public eye, I, Eliene Ruggles, leave my smallness to Fernetta Colvin.

In the hopes that he will cease to be a woman-hater and become a romantic crooner, I, Lloyd Van Sickle, leave my melodious voice to Lawrence Lombard.

Siezing this opportunity to rid myself of my various illnesses, I, Donna Graff, will these said illnesses to Helen Shull.

Perceiving that Betty Welsh is lacking in the virtue of curiosity, I, June Jacobs, having an abundance of this quality, bequeath a portion of it to her.

I, Bruce Lombard, having no further use for my middle name, Alonzo, do hereby willingly pass it on to Mr. Olendorf, thus making his full name Jasper Peter Alonzo Olendorf.

I, Margaret Westbrook, will my good marks to Virginia Butler, trusting that she will not have to spend her eighth periods in the assembly from now henceforth.

I, Joe Kyncl, will my fluffy, coal black hair to Miss Verna Cloud.

My outstanding ability being that of arguing, especially with Mr. Olendorf I, Christine Schofield, will this distinctive ability to Eloise Munger.

My most coveted possession being an "H", I, Merton Wright, bequeath this "H" to Betty Jane Sayles, thus giving her one for every sweater.

I, Velma Woodruff, will my knowledge of Alabama to John Flynn.

Having been burdened with my maidenly blushes for four years of my high school life, I, Frank Matulis, do will them to Stanley Rudis.

Perceiving that he has a weakness for rather exaggerated accounts, I, Norrine Till, will my truthful nature to Daniel Gonder.

Carmen Snyder wills her uncomplaining manner to Ruth Wyckoff.

Let it be known to all men on this day that I, Raymond Kokx, will my art in dancing to Milo Highland.

Feeling sorry for her parents and wanting to save them a considerable amount of money, I, Phyllis Smith, will my ability to sew, to Della Cargill.

Noticing that he has such a great love for American History, I, Alfred Slate, will my love for Economics class to Sam Morat.

I, Virgil Powers, upon due consideration, do will and bequeath my way with the women to Carl Hill so that he might win his heart's desire, Clara Baker.

Alice Lambrix leaves her pleasant memories of the senior class to Lois Demmon.

I, Lester Jenkins, hereby swear that it is my will and wish that Mike Katulis receive my weakness for falling in love.

Evelyn Lindgren did this day appear before me and attest her willingness to leave her undying devotion to Mears to Raymond Marshall.

I, Thurman Skinner, leave my position as the most bashful senior boy to Max Billings.

In order that Irene Pechumer will not have to spend her money on permanents, I, Selma Quist, will my curly hair to said person.

I, Phyllis Reeds, will my ability to talk to Viola Reames, so that in the future she can assert herself more freely.

In my office of notary I have this day witnessed that it is the will of June Demmon to leave to Bobbie Seelhoff her inferiority complex.

I, Gerldean Graff, do will and bequeath some of my wide-awakeness to Hoot Barritt so that he will be able to stay awake during his classes.

And last but by no means the least, Lloyd Nichols wishes to leave his size to Clayton Kokx.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF WE HAVE
AFFIXED OUR HAND AND SEAL THIS 31ST DAY OF MAY, 1934.

Class Prophecy

Russel Blades—a flourishing ice man of Hart with whom the young girls still flirt quite as proficiently as the sweet little seventh graders of his senior years.

Stephanie Bovid—Reknowned actress of Hollywood. She owes her success to that winning smile and Garbo voice which she possesses.

Doris Brandel—has distinguished herself by bringing home the laurels from the recent Olympics at Walkerville.

Sidney Brimmer—A successful dairyman who supplies his customers with rich milk at a low rate from his Milk Weed Farm.

Ila Cargill—Home demonstration agent of Oceana County.

Frances Crosby—Prospecting for gold. Is now an eligible young divorcee in hopes she has located the mint this time.

Burton Dayharsh—Editor of the Hoboken Center newspaper, in which is found not a little based upon the Civics Class of '34; such as, "Making Work a Pleasure."

June Demmon—Nurse-maid in Hart for the young married circle of "31".

Lawrence Ewing—Photographer located near Battle Creek, spending his time shooting pictures of wild life.

Ruth Fuller—Is proprietress of a culinary school teaching the young social set her own secret method of how to boil water without burning it.

Donna Graff—Since the perfection of television her innumerable radio fans are happy to say they can see as well as hear her play from the N. B. C. Studio.

Geraldine Graff—Has scaled more mountains in America than any other woman. Conqueror of ninety genuine rock-ribbed, snow-capped peaks.

Bob Hale—has reached his height (of fame) when he captured "Wooden Gun" Dillinger.

Frank Hitchcock—Awarded state honors at the Hog-Calling Contest in Idaho. (Great things come in small packages).

June Jacobs—Now advises and guides the ardent readers of the Heart Throbs Column formerly supplied by Dorothy Dix.

Lester Jenkins—Diamond miner of South Africa, but still admits he thinks opals are much more valuable. Perhaps that is why the search for diamonds followed the location of the opal mine.

Raymond Kokx—A taxi driver, he's a busy man; so he generally has a bite at the wheel—a bit tough, we should think.

Bessie Kreigh—is now permanent stenographer to Swift Lathers, making it much more convenient for the high school students who are able to devote more time to their studies.

Rhea Kreigh—Opera singer of the Metropolitan Theater of New York City returned to America after a tour of Europe. Among her many prizes is the Jenny Lind Medal from Sweden.

Joe Kyncl—Has a promising position in Hollywood, California. Shampoos his head with molasses and walks about the movie set luring the insects from in front of the camera lens.

Alice Lambrix—Has devised a method of paying her way through college. From an early age she used Listerine toothpaste. The money she saved in this way will pay all her college expenses.

Evelyn Leak—Has successfully revised Emily Post's book of etiquette so that it is more suitable for the modern generation.

Evelyn Lindgren—American dress designer who doesn't rely on Paris for ideas. Says it takes seven years for a really startling fashion change to develop, no matter what husbands say.

Bruce Lombard—Wise coach of Yale. Realizing that many incompleated passes (which if completed would have been valuable), has the team collect all incompleated passes and complete them at home.

Blanche Marshall—Married to Clarence Quist and owns a farm in Ohio. They entertain their cows with slow seductive waltzes because they claim they give more milk on less food.

Frank Matulis—Noted gangster, headed toward Ireland, thinking it to be the richest country in the world because her capital has been Dublin for several years.

Marjorie Moody—Married to Rev. Franklin K. Demmon. She has founded an orphanage for stray dogs and cats.

Lloyd Nichols—Has been signally honored by many colleges, having been given enough degrees to qualify him as a first class thermometer.

Clayton Perry—Engineer who has successfully completed the East fill for the citizens of Hart.

Lola Pettigrove—President of the Anti-Smoking League to promote thrift; for less people will be walking a mile for a Camel.

Virgil Powers—Owner of a haberdashery in Chicago with the motto: "Let Virge Clothe You."

Edna Quist—Is now a famous American poetess. You might say she was born with a pencil in her mouth.

Selma Quist—Invented an ordinary-looking bathing belt; but if you are drowning, you push a button and a dry chemical inflates a folded life-preserver. Just another case of inflation in a crisis.

Phyllis Reeds—Operates a millinery shop in Po-dunk Center, making reed hats.

Eleine Ruggles—Married to Kenneth Cloud and raising cane on a plantation in Cuba.

Albert Riggs—has been appointed cow catcher of Cripple Creek, Colorado. His duty is to corral cattle roaming in the streets.

Christine Schofield—First woman prosecutor of Oceana County. She is now prosecuting Jackie Ferguson for impersonating Kate Smith; for she contends that's her privilege.

Clara Seelhoff—teaching a class in auto salesmanship at Plattville how Columbus went 200,000 miles on a galleon.

Thurman Skinner—Supervisor of Pike National Forest in Colorado. He is a typical woodsman, saying little and seeing much.

Alfred Slate—One of the games greatest left-handed pitchers, even if he does tip his curve ball by sticking his tongue out of the side of his mouth as he winds up.

Phyllis Smith—Teacher of foreign languages, whose students claim the Romans had one thing over on us because they didn't have to learn Latin.

Carmen Snyder—Telephone operator at the White House; expecting a ring (?) from Joe.

Marjorie and Mildred Spitler—Two spinsters living at St. Louis, for they agree that it's cheaper for two to live together.

Hollis Tate—Taking Johnny Weissmuller's place in Africa and selling Watkin's shaving cream to the apes.

Norrine Till—A florist of Mears, having propagated a seedless tomato, has received hundreds of letters asking for seeds for seedless tomatoes.

Phillip Van Allsburg—Editor of the College Humor. When bigger and better jokes are printed College Humor will do it.

Teresa Vanderhavel—Perfect stenographer to the editor of College Humor. Still holds the gum-chewing title.

Lloyd Van Sickle—Famous flag-pole sitter, now rides around the skies on a fifteen-foot pole secured to the top wing of an airplane.

Andrew Weber—Promoter of a new industry. He takes the broken laws in the U. S., mends them, and sells them back to the government at cut-rate prices.

Margaret Westbrook—Just appointed Secretary of Labor—more china added to the President's cabinet.

Merton Wright—One of the world's foremost aerialists. He was born in the sawdust in Mears. Merton takes rare pride in his ability to fall.

Velma Woodruff—Violinist of Grand Rapids giving lessons to children of that city.

Evelyn Greiner—Nurse in Mayo Brothers' Hospital; her winning smile promotes cheer among male patients.

CLASS SONG

Tune—My Little Grass Shack in Kealakekua.

Our school days are now at an end,
Every friend is ready for graduation.
We must bid our school and school days
And the boisterous joys we've known good-bye.

All our school work here is ended,
And our play here finished too,
And the things that were intended
Just to guide us on through years of toil and hardship too.

We may be far far away,
But we'll think of old Hart High School,
It's a grand old place and always fair to see!
We thank you teachers, friends and parents—
All who've helped us through.
We'll try to do our best and to prove true-blue.

We've got to leave you and plod on toward life's great destination,
So we're wishing, dear Hart High School,
Sincere wishes—and good luck to you.
So we're wishing dear Hart High School
Sincere wishes—and goodbye to you.

—Evelyn Leak.

CLASS POEM, 1934

Commencement time has come at last,
 And tells us we are through
 With classes, studies, tests and things,
 That sort of made us blue,
 As through these years of school we've come,
 And kept this goal in view.
 But looking back into those years,
 That seemed so hard and long,
 Some places stand out clear and plain,
 And make it seem quite wrong
 To leave such pleasant things behind,
 As we pass right along.
 The parties gay, the plays and games,
 And other things as well,
 How in assembly room we sat,
 And heard the grade kids yell,
 As on the lawn they romped and played,
 Till Whalley rang the bell.
 But still in spite of all of that,
 We really aren't so sad.
 We've reached a vital turning point,
 And this fact makes us glad:
 We're soon to enter the school of life,
 Where more things can be had.
 And so, for all our memories—
 We couldn't go back if we tried—
 We'll get our diplomas cheerfully,
 And look on the sunny side,
 For now we're starting in again,
 Out in the world so wide.

—Lloyd Nichols.

The time has come for all the Seniors
 They have reason to all feel blue,
 For they're leaving dear Hart High School,
 Where so many friends they knew.
 How they'll miss their friends and teachers,
 And the joyous times they've had
 How they'll miss that bell of calling,
 That they used to hear with dread.
 Now their hearts are filled with sorrow,
 Perhaps some ne'er will meet again,
 But they may look back and whisper,
 Those four years weren't spent in vain.
 Though they're parting, they'll be happy,
 Just to know that others too,
 Are seeking for some occupation
 That will fit them—perhaps you.
 So tis with a heartfelt longing,
 And tis almost with a cry,
 That we say to dear Hart High School,
 Sincere wishes—and good-bye.

—Edna Quist.

We present Frank Hitchcock this feather to tickle his funny bone.

We present a road map to Bruce Lombard so he can find his way home at night.

We present to Frank Matulis this bottle of milk to quiet his nerves.

We give to Evelyn Greiner a protractor so she can measure her curves.

We present to Joe Kyncl a book of Andy Gump jokes so he will have better material for his stories.

To Raymond Kokx we present this magnet to attract the girls.

We present this phonograph needle to June Jacobs so she will talk more.

To Geraldine Graff and Ruth Fuller we present these matches to help them make one.

We present this "Ticket to Lombardy" to Donna Graff.

We present to Jack Ewing a calendar to help him keep his dates straight.

Burton Dayharsh has shown an interest in directing a good snappy band, so we present him this rubber band.

To Frances Crosby we present an ear of corn with this inscription "More shocks to the acre than any electric plant in the world."

To Doris Brandel we present this black match with the inscription "Just a note from an old flame."

We present to Norrine Till, the most truthful in our class, a hatchet that says "I did it with my little hatchet."

To Velma Woodruff we present this Royal Cook Book so she can be a good cook.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Standing—Mr. Snow, Frances Crosby, John Hanson, Christine Schofield, Bruce Lombard.
Sitting—William Rollins, Vivian Dukes, Barbara Jenkins, Max Tate.

The Student Council

The Student Council was organized and held their first meeting the second week of school.

The following officers were elected: President, elected by student body, Christine Schofield; Vice-President, Vivian Dukes; Secretary, Frances Crosby; Treasurer, Bruce Lombard.

The Student Council discussed issuing tickets for activities during the year at a reduced rate.

A favorable system was worked out, but the student body voted it down, and other arrangements were necessary. It was finally decided that forty cents class dues would be charged. This would pay for High School parties only. Due to lack of funds, and as the forty cents allowed for but four parties, the annual Student Council party was not given.

BAND

Top Row—Lavant Pickens, Jack Corbin, Herbert Lombard, William Rollins, Harold Brown, John Keene, Norrine Till, Raymond Brillhart, Maurice Nichols.
 Second Row—Peter Shimpkus, David Fletcher, Amy Coleson, Russell Blades, John Gable, Charles Landon, Billy Bunch.
 Third Row—Wade Strickland, Burton Dayharsh, Frank Till, Leo Krause, Victor Fletcher.
 Fourth Row—Florence Johnson, Lloyd Nichols, Irene Pechumer, Florence Leicht, Gladys Shinn, Lorraine Halladay.
 Fifth Row—Mr. Sumrill, Junior Rodgers, Lorraine Berger, Robert Tripp, Virginia Lykens, Marilyn Halladay, Sally Lou Hook, Rex Snyder, Richard Riddell.

The Band

The Band held its first meeting early in the fall. Since then several new members have been added, bringing the total membership up to 36. The Band has been active throughout the year having played at nearly all the home football and basketball games. In the fall they played at the Fair and this Spring they gave an outdoor concert on the school lawn.

—Richard Riddell.

ORCHESTRA

Top Row—Donna Graff, Mr. Nielsen, Virgie Grover, Richard Riddell, Raymond Brillhart, Samuel Morat, Irene Pechumer.
Second Row—Lola Pettigrove, Virginia Lykens, Amy Coleson, June Jacobs, Velma Woodruff, Evelyn Leak, Katherine Wilber.
Third Row—Mary Lorraine Harris, Helen Carter, Lois Moore, Jack Ferguson, Lloyd Nichols, Robert Tripp.

Orchestra

Soon after the beginning of the school year, Mr. Nielsen, our capable director, organized the orchestra. After playing some fairly easy pieces, we began to study some numbers that were quite difficult.

Our first public appearance was for the two senior plays, "Elmer" and "Kidnapping Betty". Following that we played for the all-school play, "Hobgoblin House". From that time on we practised steadily for our annual concert, which was given April 29.

—Lloyd Nichols.

APPLE JUDGING TEAM

Top Row—Carl Hill, Mr. Cowles, Frank Hitchcock, Donald Shull.
Second Row—Raymond Kokx, Phillip Van Allsburg, Leo Krause.

Apple Judging

Hart's Agricultural Department set a new all time record in apple judging and fruit work this year. Exhibits at Bangor Apple Show and Oceana County Fair placed first.

In Apple judging, Hart teams were equally as successful as they were in display work, winning another first. This contest was the state contest, held the sixth of December 1933, at the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium. The team consisted of Phillip Van Allsburg, Donald Shull, and Leo Krause. The alternates were Frank Hitchcock, Raymond Kokx and Carl Hill, a sophomore who looks very promising for the future. The team score was 2312.1 points out of a possible 3000. Phillip Van Allsburg scored 910.5 points out of a possible 1000 to set the highest individual score ever made in the last seven years. Donald Shull and Leo Krause placed high enough to give Hart School first place in the state. In the last seven years, Hart has taken 4 firsts, 2 seconds, and one third, a record for any school to be proud of.

We wish to extend our congratulations and sincere appreciation to Mr. Cowles, who has piloted all seven of the Hart teams to a place of honor. The fine record of Carl Hill and other lower classmen assure us of a fine team for next year to continue the good work of the department.

—Phillip Van Allsburg.

DEBATING TEAM

Standing—Mr. Snow, Mildred Lurie, John Keene, Gladys Shinn, Christine Schofield.
Sitting—Mildred Spitler, Marjorie Moody, Frances Crosby, Marjorie Spitler.

Debating 1933-34

The question for Debate this year was: Resolved: That all radio stations in the United States should be owned and operated by the Federal Government. Four veterans turned out for this year's work and with the addition of six new members, made a large Debating Squad. Early in the season the squad was divided into Negative and Affirmative groups in order to hold practice Debates.

Our first Debate was with North Muskegon, Hart upholding the Affirmative. The team consisted of Marjorie Moody, Frances Crosby, and Mildred Spitler, all of whom were in their second year of debating. We won this Debate by a unanimous decision. The next Debate was with Grand Haven with the same team, which we lost by a 2-1 decision. Our next debate was with Tustin, Hart upholding the Negative. The negative team consisted of Marjorie Spitler, Mildred Lurie, and Christine Schofield. This Debate was lost by a unanimous decision. Because of bad weather, we forfeited our last Debate to Barryton. Thus ended our season.

Carnival of '34

The most successful event of the year was the Carnival held at the Hart High School Auditorium April 6 and 7. Mr. Cowles was the general manager, and each teacher had a special department or concession. The side shows were directed by Miss Bowen; the movies by Mr. Snow; and the Rogue's Gallery by Miss Cloud. Miss McCall was in charge of the gift shop; Miss Hawley, the cake walk; Miss Christensen and Miss Fry the dancing girls, and Mr. Sumrill displayed the airplane models. On Friday night, the Carnival Queen, Marjorie Moody, was crowned. Her court consisted of the following girls: Frances Crosby, Jeanne Watkins, Donna Graff, Betty Jane Sayles, Bertha Springstead, Betty Welsh, Eloise Munger and Elaine Grate.

The funds collected from this Carnival were given partly to the Athletic Association and also to purchase curtains for the stage in the auditorium.

We had a number of veterans back from last year. Having tied last year with Shelby for the conference we were determined to win it this year. Dayharsh and B. Lombard were elected co-captains for the year.

Hart lost its first game to Shelby, a non-conference game, 7 to 6. It was very hard to take, especially from Shelby.

Montague came to visit Hart next, and we gave them a very entertaining afternoon. Hart came out on the long end of the score, 19 to 6.

Next we journeyed to Scottville and gave them some entertainment to the tune of 18 to 0 in our favor.

Our coach said he had a treat for us; we asked him what it was and he said it was a game with the old veterans, the old war horses of Hart High, the Alumni. Here we proved that youth could conquer age, the score being 12 to 6 in our favor.

Following this we had an invitation to a tea party, we thought, with Ludington, but came home on the wrong end of the score, 33 to 0.

We had not beaten Fremont in four years. We were determined to try this year with every bit of courage we had, to defeat them. In a sea of slippery mud we scored 15 points to their 6.

Then comes the big game for Barritt, B. Lombard, Tate, Dayharsh, Weber, Wright and Matulis—because this was their last game and it was with Shelby. It was also the deciding game for the conference championship. Because of a heavy snow-storm the town all willingly turned out and cleared off the field and got it prepared for the battle. Shelby scored the first touchdown in the first half. Hart returned in the second half and carried the ball over for two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, for the winning of the game.

BOYS' INTER-SCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL

Top Row—Hollis Tate, Manager, Frank Matulis, Mr. Olendorf.
 Second Row—N. J. Hook, John Hanson, Robert Palen.
 Third Row—Gerald Wyckoff, John Spencer, Lawrence Lombard, Perry Slocum.

Basketball and Track Meet

The season of 1933 and 1934 was not wholly a success as far as scores go. We lost the majority of games but we turned out a good squad in the end. The first few games we lost by a very small margin and then the team went into a slump. Our only victory of the season was when we defeated Pentwater on their own floor. Then came the tournament! The first night we drew a bye which gave us an advantage of one night's rest over the other teams competing. The following night we played Scottville and beat them by a score of 21-18, a margin of 3 points. The third night of the tournament we played Shelby and what a game it was—anybody's ball game until the last whistle. Hart displayed a wonderful brand of ball playing and it was quite a disappointment to have to come home on the short end of a 12-15 score. The boys who received letters were Clinton Barritt, Capt. of the squad and a very good leader for the team, John Spencer and Frank Matulis who will not be back next year, and Perry Slocum, Robert Palen, Gerald Wyckoff, Lawrence Lombard and N. J. Hook, all of whom have one or more years to play.

The second team had a very successful season under the capable leadership of Mr. Cowles. They played 14 games and won all but three which is an average of 84%. We feel that this is an excellent record and that from these men we will be able to get some very valuable material for next year's team.

TRACK 1933

The track season for 1933 was a very successful one for Hart.

In the West Michigan Conference Track meet, held on May 24, Hart won by a score of 44 1-3 to Shelby's 41, our nearest rival. Other scores were Montague 23 1-3, Whitehall 20 1-3. Scottville 13. We also won a meet with Scottville, held earlier in the season, by a wide margin. The only new record set last year was by Donald Shull in the Broad Jump—20 ft. 5 inches. However in the Conference meet, Brandel threw the javelin 123 feet, 7 inches, into a terrific south wind, which gave us the extra points necessary to win, as the Shelby competition was keen and even.

GIRLS' INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL

Girls' Athletics

A system of gymnasium, basketball, and volleyball was worked out this year to take the place of inter-scholastic basketball, which was abolished last year. About forty girls came out for it.

Practice was held three times a week, on Tuesdays at 3:30, on Thursdays at 4:45, and on Fridays at 3:30, under the able supervision of Miss Helen Hawley.

At the beginning of basketball season the group was divided up into teams for practice. Later a tournament was held, consisting of the different high school classes. The results of the games were as follows:

Seniors	-	-	-	-	30	Juniors	-	-	-	-	22
Seniors	-	-	-	-	20	Freshmen	-	-	-	-	2
Freshmen	-	-	-	-	22	Sophomores	-	-	-	-	12
Sophomores	-	-	-	-	12	Juniors	-	-	-	-	24

The championship games of the past three seasons were won by the class of 1934.

The Freshmen and Sophomore classes were the only ones to elect captains. They were as follows: Freshmen, Marian Pugsley; Sophomores, Betty Welsh.

SOCIAL

SENIOR PARTY

The social life of Hart High School started out October 20 with a grand party, given by the Seniors. The auditorium was decorated with autumn leaves, corn shocks and pumpkins and the lights were shaded in gray and orange. Music was furnished by Roy Coddington's Orchestra for those who danced and games for those who didn't care to dance. Pop corn and peanuts with novelties were served and all left feeling they had spent an entertaining and enjoyable evening.

JUNIOR PARTY

On November 17 the Juniors entertained the faculty, students and their parents with their annual party. The Auditorium was beautifully decorated in blue and amber. Games entertained those who didn't dance and the dancing music was furnished by Ben Frost's Orchestra. During intermission, a floor show was put on by members of the Junior class and everybody especially enjoyed the tap dancing by Udella Yeargin. Sweet cider and doughnuts were served and everyone present reported a very good time.

SOPHOMORE PARTY

The Sophomore class entertained the high school, parents, and faculty with a St. Patrick's party, March 17. The auditorium was very prettily decorated in green and white, with pigs and shamrocks pasted on the walls. The music was furnished by Sonny Salmonson's orchestra. Refreshments of green mint ice cream and wafers were served.

FRESHMAN PARTY

The Freshman class entertained the High School and faculty on April 27 by giving a gay costume party. The Auditorium was decorated in pink and orchid, with peach blossoms hanging on the walls. Ben Frost's orchestra furnished the music for those who wished to dance and games for those who didn't dance were furnished. Punch and wafers were served as refreshments. A good time was enjoyed by all.

Andy W. "It's all right when I put my muffler on."

Frank M. "Have you heard the latest Ford Joke?"

Burton D.: "Have I heard it? Don't make me laugh. I own it."

Customer at McCann's: "There's a fly in my soup."

Arlene B.: "Maybe it's one of those vitamin bee's you hear so much about."

Insurance Agent: "Don't you want your school furniture insured against theft?"

Mr. Shinn: "All except the clock. Everybody watches that."

Marjorie M.: "I spoke yesterday with a Frenchman for three hours on various topics."

Miss Cloud: "I'm glad you know your French so well."

Marj: "Oh don't misunderstand me. He speaks English perfectly."

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Feb. 4—Basketball boys signed the death warrant. What an eventful (?) life they'll lead from now on.
- Feb. 7—Nobody recognized Gonder this morning.
He had his neck and ears washed.
- Feb. 8—Cowles is making a collection of books:
Dick Tracy, Tarzan of the Apes, etc.
- Feb. 9—Quite a controversy taking place between
Mr. Snow and the Courier concerning the Spirit of Hart High.
- Feb. 12—Lincoln's birthday. Olie celebrated by staying out of school.
- Feb. 13—Olie's back, but oh! those pills.
- Feb. 14—Hurrah! We won a basketball game from Pentwater after two overtime periods, 19-18.
- Feb. 15—Christine sat down so hard that she split her dress.
- Feb. 16—Basketball game with Shelby. The score was 11-11 at the end of the 2nd overtime, so the tie was left unbroken.

Olendorf: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

R. Harris: "At the bottom of the page."

The Freshmen here think the school is haunted because Mr. Snow talks so much about the school spirit.

Teacher: "Give me an example of foreign entanglement."

Bill Rollins: "A meal of spaghetti."

Lloyd: "I could dance like this forever."

Barbara J.: "Oh, no, I'm sure you'll improve."

* * *

Lady (to blind man): My poor man, what made you blind?"

Man: "Looking for work, lady."

Teresa V.: "I think I have a cold or something in my head."

Van: "Must be a cold."

Mr. Olendorf: "Is it true that all married people are unhappy?"

Mr. Cowles: "No, only the men are."

Miss McCall: "This makes the fifth time I've had to talk to you this week. What have you to say?"

Ruth W.: "I'm glad this is Friday."

Teacher: "Milo, you're the most valuable boy in the class."

Milo Highland: "How's that?"

Teacher: "Well, you talk in your sleep and keep the other students awake."

A picture card from a world-touring dad to his son in college read: "This is the cliff from which the Spartans used to throw their defective children. Wish you were here."

Bruce L.: "I shall never marry until I meet a woman who is my direct opposite."

Clinton B. (encouragingly): "How about Donna? She's awfully smart."

Teacher: "How do you spell madam?"

Clayton K.: "Oh, forwards or backwards. It's all the same."

* * *

Audrey: "How do you know that the joke Clara told was original?"

Irene: "There wasn't any point to it."

Miss Bowen: "Would you like to be president of the U. S. some day?"

Bill Bunch: "Naw, I'd rather have a steady job."

* * *

N. J. Hook: "I've a notion to settle down and raise chickens."

Gerald W.: "Better try owls. Their hours will suit you better."

Carmen: "Congratulate me. My brother is taking medicine at college."

Evelyn L.: "That's too bad. How long has he been sick?"

Florence: "What shall I do? I dropped my watch on the floor and it stopped."

Fernetta: "Did you think it would go right through?"

Bobbie Seelhoff: "Do you like meat balls?"

Ruby Shafer: "I dunno. I never went to one."

* * *

During economics class one day, Christine Schofield had a very important bit of information for Mildred Spitler. So she quietly went over to Mildred's seat to disclose it.

Mr. Olendorf looked up and asked, "Well, Christine, how did you get over there?"

"Oh," replied Christine, "I put one foot in front of the other."

Tramp: "Will you please give me a quarter for a bed?"

Matulis: "I dunno. Let me see the old bed first."

* * *

Evelyn: "I've fixed him so he will answer my letter right away."

Teresa: "How did you do it?"

Evelyn: "Oh, I wrote a lot of gossip and forgot to send the middle page."

Mildred Lurie: "The audience was very enthusiastic about my declamation. When I finished they shouted, 'Fine, Fine!'"

Barbara Jenkins: "It's a good thing you stopped when you did. If you had kept on any longer they would have shouted 'Imprisonment.'"

Max Tate: "What part of your face is cheapest?"

Jack Salters: "I dunno."

Max: "Your nostrils; they are two for a scent."

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Feb. 22—Football trophy finally arrived.

Feb. 23—Thus ends the basketball season. Fremont 24, Hart 16.
